Hello, and welcome to another winter catalogue. This is the fat plain one, rather than the skinny fancy one that you get in Summer.

Lots of choice. The self-publishers have been busy, so I never know what titles will turn up on my doorstep. Today so far it's some herb books from Queensland, and there's a chance of a shipment from South Africa. Last week, from Nepal, Brazil and the USA. And more next week from elsewhere. All with different textures, contents and smells. It keeps me entertained.

And off the street you might say, though I did catch up with the baobab in Kings Park: 750 years old they estimate and transported 3,000Km from the Kimberley. Something special. Florilegium was in Fremantle for the IPPS Conference. I'm looking forward to catching up with some gardening friends at the Nambour Home Garden show next month. See you there guys.

We're well settled in the new shop now. I can now locate most of the books on the shelves, and details like that. People seem to be finding us despite our low-key signage, and those who come are generally very complimentary about our renovation of this lovely old 19thC building in its historic setting. A very pleasant extra for me has been a number of people dropping in who worked at the Demeter Bakery which was here for 20 years. All pleasant folk who smile when talking about their time at Demeter (run by the Biodynamic people); many lived in the neighbourhood then so we're able to piece together a bit of local history.

Anyway, enough of all that - I'll let you get on with ordering a book or three.
