LIFE hasn't been easy for Dean Coulston - the 16-year-old has never been able to walk and has had about 35 major operations during those 16 years.

Despite his disabilities, Dean has a healthy zest for living and a mother and grandmother who between them have raised more than $500,000 to "thank the Crippled Children's Association for the support and care it has provided for Dean."

Dean's mother Pat Coulston was runner-up Mrs SA High Achiever in 1991, raising $103,000. The next year she raised $132,000 and got the title.

Last year Dean's grandmother, Lorna McGovern, broke her daughter's record, raising $162,000 and becoming not only Mrs SA High Achiever, but getting the national title.

In her fundraising activities she had the support of family and friends, and members of the Glenelg Auxiliary of the Crippled Children's Association and the Cocktails and Dreams Committee.

She has won an overseas trip, a Mazda car, a $1000 wardrobe from Myer and other incentive prizes through the year.

So that she could provide more support for Pat and Dean, Lorna moved to SA from, Urunga, NSW. She has seen Dean progress to the stage where he now plays balloon soccer using his wheelchair and has karate lessons.

"My main aim is to give others at Regency Park the opportunity to achieve the same goals as, my grandson," she said.

The launch of the brand new Community Achievement Awards will be held in Prince Alfred College assembly hall at 6.30 pm on Friday. More than 60 entrants are already busy fundraising.
